Research Assistants

The Yale Center for Environmental Law & Policy, a joint undertaking between Yale Law School and Yale School of the Environment, advances fresh thinking and analytically rigorous approaches to environmental decision-making across disciplines, sectors, and scales. In addition to its research activities, the center also aims to foster discussion and collaboration across the Yale campus on environmental law and policy issues at the local, regional, national, and global levels. Its recent projects include the biennial Environmental Performance Index (http://epi.yale.edu), which ranks countries on performance indicators tracked across policy categories covering both environmental public health and ecosystem vitality, as well as initiatives on Sustainable Finance, Trade and Climate Change, Rethinking Environmental Protection for the 21st Century, Corporate Sustainability, and Global Climate Governance.

We seek research assistants to support the Center’s ambitious agenda across a variety of projects.

The work will include:

- Drafting and editing support for a wide array of written products including book chapters, journal articles, white papers, online copy, and more
- Rapid turnaround academic and policy research
- Event planning and management for conferences, speakers, workshops, and symposiums including programs for the Yale Environmental Dialogue – Yale’s signature effort to infuse environmental policy discussions with new energy, recast foundations, and policy breakthroughs. See: https://environment.yale.edu/dialogue
- Other duties as the Center’s agenda requires

Requirements: Applicants should have excellent writing and research skills and an interest in high-impact, policy focused work. The essential requirement of this role is the flexibility to respond rapidly to both anticipated and unexpected research and operational demands in support of the Center’s research agenda combined with the ability to produce superior, academically rigorous work under pressure.

Pay will be at established Yale rates, commensurate with experience.

These positions will require about 10 hours per week; hours are generally flexible.

To apply, please submit a resume and a short statement of interest to timothy.mason@yale.edu.
